1500 Organisers' Welcome by Lars Lippuner, Director of UK Customer Maritime Services, Maritime and Coastguard Agency (MCA)

1505 Keynote Addresses

- Mable Chan, JP, Permanent Secretary for Transport and Logistics, Transport and Logistics Bureau, Government of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region
- Jos Standerwick, Chief Executive, Maritime London

1530 Session 1 - Counterparty compliance in a complex trading environment

This panel will explore how counterparties can ensure compliance, in a world of regional and international decarbonisation regulation, increasingly onerous ESG requirements from stakeholders in the shipping value chain and ambitious, complex sanctions regimes.

Moderator: Mike Salthouse, Head of External Affairs, NorthStandard

Panellists:

- Alexander Brandt, Partner, Transportation, Reed Smith
- Vineet Puri, Director, Head of Shipping, Asia North and Asia South, Corporate Banking, Citi
- Sandra Rosignoli, Group General Counsel and Head of Compliance, Clarksons
- Martin Rowe JP, Vice President, Anglo-Eastern Univan Group

1630 Refreshments break

1700 Session 2 - The advantages of operating assets from a mature maritime jurisdiction

This panel will explore role of mature maritime jurisdictions in the current geopolitical context. Whether the need for enhanced transparency requirements and the changes in global tax norms are leading shipping interests to consider their corporate structures, and how shipping clusters can capitalise on these trends in the market.

Moderator: Jos Standerwick, Chief Executive, Maritime London

Panellists:

- William Fairclough, Managing Director, Wah Kwong Maritime Services (UK) Company Ltd
- Clarence KF Leung, Asset Finance and Leasing Tax Partner, PwC
- Lars Lippuner, Director of UK Customer Maritime Services, Maritime and Coastguard Agency (MCA)
- Sandra Rosignoli, Director, Maritime London & Group General Counsel and Head of Compliance, Clarksons
- Benjamin Wong, Head of Transport and Logistics, InvestHK

1800 Closing Remarks by Chris Woodward, Director General, Trade & Investment, British Consulate-General Hong Kong
